

Paul Sandy Photography News Picture Special

Welcome to my latest newsletter. As I have been so busy lately and following a fabulous photographic trip in April this year, I have decided to hold over other news until the next newsletter and instead bring you a selection of images from that trip to the Isles of Scilly. I also now have a new Featured Image on my website at a very special price; this too is from the Isles of Scilly.

Watch out for my work in the Methodist Church at Silverton Street Market on Saturday 7 August

If it is not an interesting picture when in focus, it is not going to be a better picture out of focus
